

PEOPLE URGED TO MAIL DONATIONS

Many in City Have Not Been Seen By Canvassers—Total For Federation is Now $14,043.59.

Marvin Campbell yesterday led the individual solicitors in the Federation of Social Service campaign for funds by turning in donations amounting to $164. This is a high record for the campaign for individual solicitors. Many workers are still canvassing the various districts in the city assigned to them in an effort to reach all those who are willing to contribute to the support of the needy in South Bend. It is the belief that the campaign will end within the next few days. There has been reports to the effect that a second solicitation will be made by the organization this year. This is denied by officials who say that although it is believed they will not secure the goal of $40,000 set at the beginning of the campaign they will arrange other means of securing the remainder.

Solicitors yesterday secured new donations amounting to $334.80, making the total fund now $14,043.59. It is hoped to raise this $20,000 within the next few days and before the campaign is brought to a formal close. One of the features of the campaign will be the charity ball scheduled to be held this afternoon in the J. M. S. building. Many tickets have been sold for the affair and some unique plans have been laid for the entertainment of the dancers. The report of Federation made Friday follows:

The Balanced Four that lightens Winter Upkeep

Let's start by saying you want a car but thought you might get one along in May. What's the use of waiting 'til then and missing the best of the whole year's driving?

There's comfort and there's convenience in having a car at just this time of the year. But there's a world of pleasure, too, in getting out-of-doors just now in the bracing winds that set your ears a-tingle and your blood leaping.

And this Studebaker FOUR is just the car for winter. For with over-measure of power that makes it careless of the roads and the weather, it gives you, with its close-fitting top and stowaway curtains all the protection and all the comforts of a much heavier, closed car.

But the BIG thing is that the Studebaker engineers in simplifying its design have made it STRONGER and so much better balanced and aligned that the jars and jouncings of winter roads find no reflection in increased upkeep costs.

It's the balanced FOUR that lightens expense—the FOUR you want for winter as well as the rest of the year. Will you come in and see it—see how much you CAN get in this FOUR at $985.

ANOTHER WARNING GIVEN MEXICANS

U. S. Cavalryman Struck By Bullet on Border Line at Naco—Carranza Destroys Railway.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Another United States cavalryman, John W. Miller, has been hit by a Mexican bullet on the international border line at Naco, Ariz., a Mexican citizen, has been killed on the American side at the same place; Carranza has practically destroyed the Vera Cruz-Mexico railway and George Carothers, the special agent of Sec'y Bryan is at Mexico City, endeavoring to create "a lasting peace" between Gen. Zapata and Gen. Villa. These are the developments today in the Mexican situation.

The shooting of the American trooper is only one of a series of similar incidents at Naco where Gen. Hill with Carranza's troops, and Gen. May, Carranza at the head of Gen. Villa's troops, have been fighting almost daily in full view of the United States cavalry.

Gen. Bliss reports that he has sent "another warning" to the Mexicans to stop shooting across the line. This is all that Gen. Bliss could do under his orders from Washington. Such a warning was put in the shape of a formula under the Taft administration and has been adopted by the present administration. The offenses have continued from the time of the issuance of the order and before it until the present day.

Denies Hope of Peace.
Senor R. Zubaran Capmany, head of the constitutionalist agency at Washington, gave out a statement Friday denying any hope of peace between Carranza and Villa. This is all that Gen. Bliss could do under his orders from Washington. Such a warning was put in the shape of a formula under the Taft administration and has been adopted by the present administration. The offenses have continued from the time of the issuance of the order and before it until the present day.

The gunboat Sacramento has been ordered from Boston to Tampico to replace the old monitor Ozark. Tampico recently became a new storm center in Mexico as the properties of the Netherlands, principally oil wells, were threatened, it having been reported the city was to be attacked. The Netherlands minister, Mr. Van Rappart, immediately called at the department and asked for protection. The navy department has at Tampico the battleship Rhode Island, but as the trouble was reported at Panuco, which is far inland up the Panuco river on which Tampico is situated, light draft vessels like the Sacramento are necessary to reach the scene of trouble.

cafe, and was followed by a program of 14 dances. The prize of $5 to the individual selling the most tickets was awarded to Albert McDonald, a junior.

HIGH TRAFFIC RATES RETARD BUSINESS

Exports Would be Much Larger, But For Danger From Hostile Vessels.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Bradstreet's Review for Saturday says: "Financial recuperation and resumption make for improved basic conditions future but irregularity still is the distinguishing feature on trade and industry and a very plainly marked line of divergence is visible between export and purely domestic trade movements. The resumption of bond dealings at New York and in stocks and bonds at outside markets, the reopening of the call money market, the growing ease of money reflected in that market and in the market for commercial paper are evidences of progress and point to a possible early restoration of complete financial and credit machinery.

"In export trade, war orders and grain exports furnish sources of marked activity, though cotton exports despite further expansion and the largest week's total since the war began, are still far below a year ago. Demand for American products to be used by the troops in the field is in turn reflected in the activity in favored industries. The scarcity of high prices for ocean freight carriage acts as a bar to fullest export activity.

"In purely domestic trade the situation is not much changed from the previous slow pace. Unseasonably mild weather has retarded retail trade, reduced re-order trade for jobbers, usual at this season and made collections, if anything a shade slower than a week ago. Holiday trade, however, shows expansion. At the south the additional retarding feature is the unsatisfactory price for cotton, is low.

GIRLS ARE DISCUSSED BY Y. W. C. A. SPEAKERS

Private Life Has Influence on Business Abilities is Statement.

Showing the need of the right use of the mental and physical energies, and the conservation of those energies as sacred gifts, Miss Carrie Rein and two other speakers at the Y. W. C. A. Friday evening, gave an interesting and profitable evening to the large number of girls who heard them. The series of talks were given in the regular Friday night parlor talk schedule, under the general supervision of Mrs. Ralph Harris, who was in charge of the entertainment for the evening.

The speakers were Miss Carrie Rein, Miss Carrie Roth and Miss Elinor Wolf. Their talks were closely related, so that the three were practically a continuation of one specific theme, the need of efficiency and order in the business life of the working girl, and indeed, the most careful consideration of her conduct at all times, as it was shown by all three speakers that any laxness whatsoever in the social or private life of a girl cannot but have a deteriorating effect upon her business ability.

Methods were discussed by which the business women can raise her standards of commercial training and thereby increase the value of her services to her employer. The moral shows expansion. At the south the additional retarding feature is the unsatisfactory price for cotton, is low.

requires both, was strongly emphasized as an incentive to the most diligent application and unremitting efforts to qualify. That the rewards justify the efforts was clearly shown, in that the business woman whose sense of duty and whose careful training compel her to give her best efforts to her employer is appreciated by him and aided to the highest business positions.

MERCHANTS' VOTING CONTEST ENDS TODAY

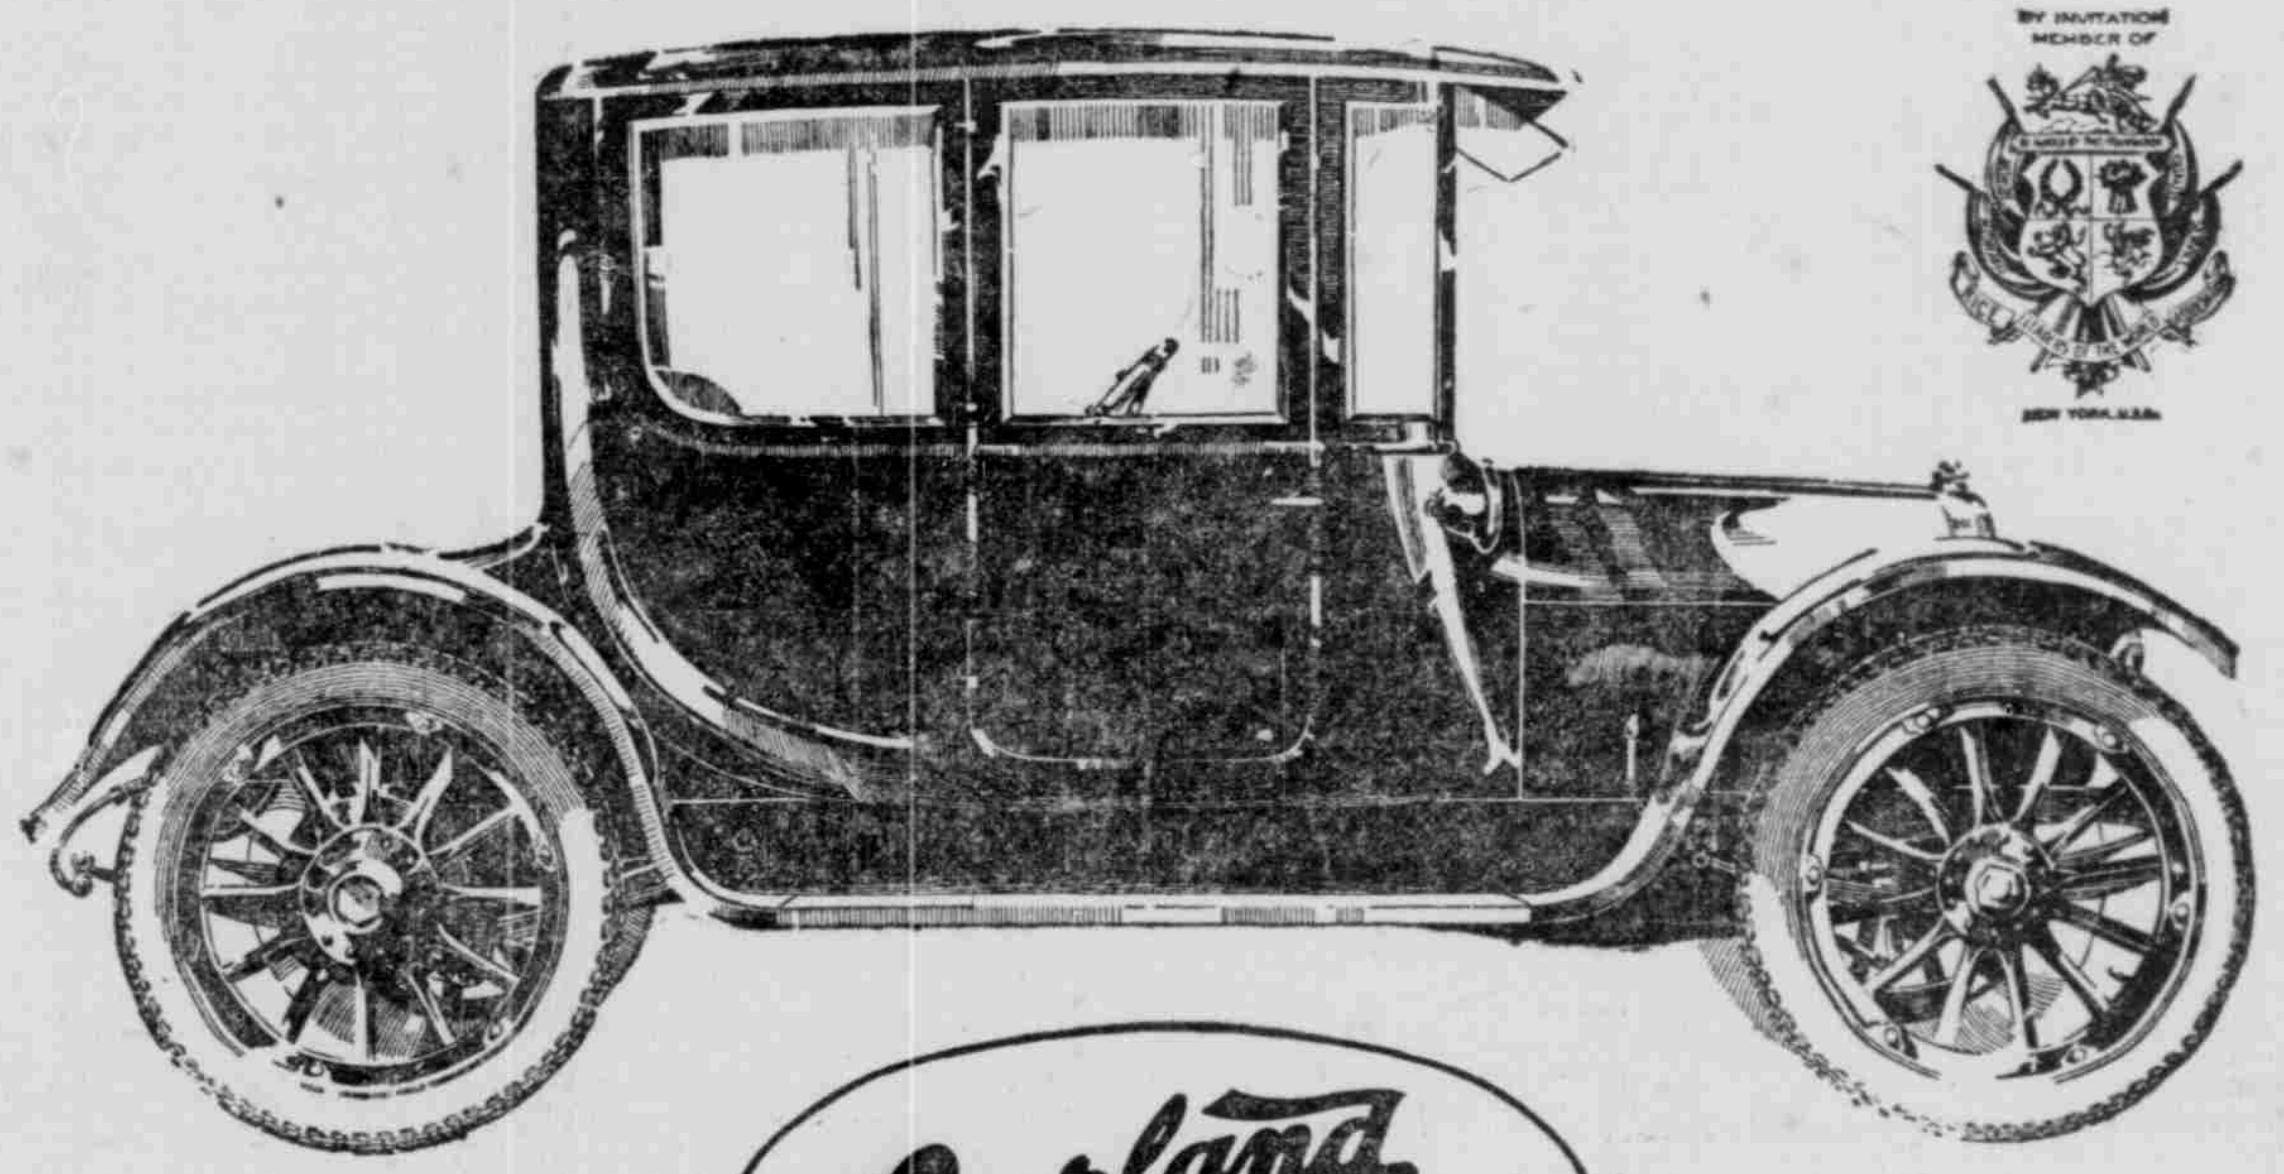

All Votes, in Order to Be Counted, Must Be In By Six O'clock.

Today ends the Merchants' Voting contest. For 10 weeks the battle has raged ceaselessly between the many contestants, but the last few days have dwindled the numbers down to but a few. Votes have simply flooded the business office during the last week, coming in as many as thousands at a time. The contest closes officially at 6 o'clock this evening and the prize winners may be announced in tomorrow morning's paper, provided those in charge are able to complete the task of counting the last relay of votes in time for the press. Otherwise the returns will not be published until Monday morning.

HINES PROVES INNOCENCE IN IMPERSONATION CASE

James Hines, alias Kyle, 311 W. Sample st., was found not guilty of impersonating an officer in city court Friday morning in charges filed by J. M. Weaver, president of a local detective agency. After the testimony of five or six saloon proprietors and policemen was given to the court the latter held that the evidence was not sufficient to warrant a conviction. Leonard Bussye, Clarence Elliott, Patrolman Bowman, Frank Harris and others were called upon to testify. The attorney for the defense admitted practically every bit of the testimony given, but the court held that it was not sufficient in that Hines had done nothing more than pose as a private detective working from the Weaver agency and for the Anti-Saloon league.
